

Child-on-Child Abuse Policy

Keeping Children Safe in Education, 2023, states education providers should “ensure their [safeguarding] policy includes procedures to minimise the risk of child-on-child abuse and sets out how allegations of child-on-child abuse will be investigated and dealt with”. Showcase Training operate a zero-tolerance policy on all forms of abuse, bullying, harassment, and discrimination of any kind.

This policy is in conjunction with the following policies:

- e-Safety and IT Acceptable Use
- Code of Conduct and Behaviour
- Safeguarding
- Dignity at Work
- Discipline and Sanctions
- Equality and Diversity

All of which can be found in the policies folder on OneFile or at www.showcasetraining.co.uk/policies.

This policy includes learners both on site at Showcase and in settings/employers.

All staff should be aware that children can abuse other children and that it can happen both inside and outside of learning and online. It is essential that all staff understand the importance of challenging inappropriate behaviours between children and that any concerns must be discussed with the Designated Safeguarding Lead.

Types of Abuse

There are many forms of abuse that may occur between peers and this list is not exhaustive:

- Physical abuse may include, hitting, kicking, nipping, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm to another person.
- Sexually harmful behaviour/sexual abuse may range from inappropriate sexual language, inappropriate role play, to sexually touching another or sexual assault/abuse. It may also include causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent, such as forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with a third party.
- Sexual harassment may include sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment, which may be standalone or part of a broader pattern of abuse.
- Bullying is unwanted, aggressive behaviour that involves a real or perceived power imbalance. The behaviour is repeated, or has the potential to be repeated, over time. Bullying includes actions such as:
 - Making threats
 - Spreading rumours
 - Attacking someone physically or verbally or for a particular reason e.g. size, hair colour, gender, sexual orientation
 - Excluding someone from a group on purpose.
- Cyber bullying/abuse is the use of phones, instant messaging, e-mail, chat rooms or social networking sites such as Facebook and Twitter to harass threaten or intimidate someone for the same reasons as stated above.
 - Cyber bullying can fall into criminal behaviour under the Malicious Communications Act 1988 under section 1, which states that electronic communications which are indecent or grossly offensive, convey a threat or false information or demonstrate that there is an intention to cause distress or anxiety to the victim would be deemed to be criminal.
 - This is also supported by the Communications Act 2003, Section 127 which states that electronic communications which are grossly offensive or indecent, obscene, or menacing, or false, used again for the purpose of causing annoyance, inconvenience or needless anxiety to another could also be deemed to be criminal behaviour.

- If the behaviour involves the use of taking or distributing indecent images of young people under the age of 18 then this is also a criminal offence under the Sexual Offences Act 2003.
- Sexting - when someone sends or receives a sexually explicit text, image, or video. This includes sending 'nude pics', 'rude pics' or 'nude selfies'.
 - By having in their possession, or distributing, indecent images of a person under 18 on to someone else, young people are breaking the law as stated under the Sexual Offences Act 2003.
- Sharing of nude and semi-nude images and/or videos both consensual and non-consensual.
- Upskirting which typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without their permission, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress, or alarm.
- Prejudiced behaviour/discrimination refers to physical and emotional behaviour which causes someone to feel powerless, worthless, excluded, or marginalised due to certain characteristics, including, but not limited to:
 - Gender
 - Race
 - Religion/Belief
 - Disability
 - Gender Reassignment
 - Likes/dislikes
 - Culture
- Abuse in intimate personal relationships between children refers to 'teenage abuse' and is any type of abuse between two young people.
- Initiation/hazing type violence and rituals which includes activities involving harassment, abuse, and humiliation, and may include an online element.

Reporting Abuse

Any abusive behaviour, actions, or language must be reported to the tutor or Safeguarding Officer and appropriate action taken swiftly.

It is important to deal with a situation of peer abuse immediately and sensitively.

It is necessary to gather the information as soon as possible to get the true facts around what has occurred. Staff should not be prejudiced, judgemental, dismissive, or irresponsible in dealing with such sensitive matters.

- Gather all the facts in writing, asking open questions
- Consider the intent - has this been a deliberate or contrived situation for a young person to be able to harm another
- Consider
 - The age of the involved parties
 - Where the incident(s) occurred
 - Have the parties provided any kind of explanation
 - What is each person's take on what occurred
 - Has the behaviour been a repeated incident

Tutors must take immediate action to remove the risk of harm, including exclusion/separation, discipline, verbal and written warnings, and removal of a learner from the environment. You must report ALL incidents to the Safeguarding Officer, detailing any actions already taken. The Safeguarding Officer will then review the incident and action taken.

Sanctions

- Issue a formal warning

- Restrict or exclude learners from the course
